The French institute in Latvia and the Goethe-Institut Riga invite all creatives to join their free collaborative creation workshop
“Think Un*Common” in August 2022

Professionals, students and enthusiasts from all creative fields are invited to join the 3-days collaborative creation workshop Think Un*Common from August 24 to August 27, 2022. The event will be hosted at the RTU Science and Innovation Center – Dizaina fabrika.

Three key moments will highlight the event: a meet and greet between all participants, mentors and coordinators, free creation time in teams and an artworks' exhibition evening as a joyful closure. Selected participants will work in teams under an intense yet proactive timeframe on a creation challenge about their collective vision of our common future at the age of digitalization and sustainability, with the close mentorship of professionals from Germany, France and Latvia. They will enjoy full access to the RTU Design Factory, technicians' help and a team's budget, as well as coffee breaks, lunches & a friendly non-competitive atmosphere.

The registration is free and open to all creative minds from a wide range of expertise: visual art, performance, architecture, sculpting, coding, illustration, electronics, designers, engineering and other. Call for participants is open until July 24th at midnight, following a registration link on the website <http://www.thinkuncommon.lv> and the Facebook event: <https://www.facebook.com/events/463222315535672>

The collaborative creation workshop Think Un*Common aims at encouraging all stakeholders of the sociocultural industries in Latvia to network, highlighting the creativity of its artists and technicians by accompanying the emergence of innovating proposals, and favoring the collective reflection on nowadays major topics.

The project is organized by the French institute in Latvia and the Goethe-Institut Riga, in collaboration with the RTU Science and Innovation Center. It won the support of the Franco-German Cultural Fund and is part of a selection of 40 projects across the world. Coordination of the project is led by Morberga Studija and Creative Tuesdays, and the event is supported by Milwaukee and E-Ginalas.
